

HOW LONG CAN THEY DO IT?

(Extract from the Wall Street Journal)

There is in Canada current opinion that it costs the Government $1.05 to get $1.00 of gross revenue from the railroads which have been emancipated from the capitalistic class. A deficit of $50,000,000 in 1919 is the forecast. This straightway gives rise to conjecture as to what the true relation of cost and revenue would be if some courageous administration reached down to the bottom of our own government operation of the roads.

Thanks in part to the peculiarities of the Canadian situation, the private Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific have contributed nobly to the government's experiment in railroad operation. This and other causes have steadily lifted the percentage of cost to gross revenue. Today it is 89 per cent. for the Grand Trunk and 81 per cent. for the Canadian Pacific. The percentage that actually discloses the shocking scandal of surplus, rather than the uplifting inspiration of deficit.

Monthly statements duly audited and certified show Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk can still operate on their motive power. The exact status of the government roads is not so clearly revealed. Why it is not is a matter of conjecture, friendly, invidious or neutral as may be. Some irreconcilables want to know how they are to reach a conclusive audit of Canadian Northern, making a true capital investment basis for figures. Others say there is an operation deficit of more than three per cent.

What if it be so that the more wheels turn round, and the faster they go, the more money they lose.

If it costs a cent less to take in a dollar, what the taxpayer there to pay it? And doesn't the paltry 3 cents go at once back into circulation? "As long as he has a dollar left to burn why shouldn't the taxpayer writho and turn?"

A staunch supporter of a western co-operative grain concern with a long and honorable record of losses used to refer to its "turnover" as its "turnunder." Happily free of the embarrassment of literary cult, he has given the government's railroad auditors a book heading, accurate and novel. They should be satisfied and so should the taxpayers. For, as a facetious inquirer for government figures says: "If a taxpayer is not to pay these taxes, what is he for? But how long can they do it?"

BOURASSA WILL NOT RETIRE TO MONASTERY.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—Pure fiction is the laconic reply of Le Devoir, Montreal, to a correspondence card received by the Toronto Daily Star yesterday, with a clipping of a dispatch which appeared in the Star on Monday stating that Ottawa had a report that Henri Bourassa was about to retire to a monastery, with the ultimate purpose of entering the priesthood.

WHISKY SHIPPED TO TORONTO AS SOAP.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—Seventy hundred and fifty bottles of whisky, shipped as soap, were seized by policemen in the C.N.R. freight sheds last night. At the average price charged by bootleggers the seizure would be worth $4,500. Five hundred and seventy-four bottles were packed in cases and consigned to the Ontario Soap Company.

THE DOOM OF FORCE

A bright and happy small Canadian boy

Astride the muzzle of the captured gun,

Playing as with a monster German gun,

And in his fearless freedom having fun.

A picture, surely, for some master-brush

To cap the war collection in the Hall;

The story of our land in victory's flush,

And of autocracy's deep, deadly fall.

Note the grim, silent, helpless, mitered brute,

A mottled dragon in its camouflage,

That seems to sit in its resentment mused

And swallow down its vast impotent rage.

And mark the kiddie's sport—hilarious, free

As he bestrides it for a hobby-horse;

Unconscious in his winsome, childish glee

That he is posing for "The doom of Force."

Brave little lad, mayhap dear daddy lies

Amid the poppies in far Flanders' field,

And 'tis the spirit in your clear blue eyes

That says: "To tyrants we shall never yield."

"World-power or Downfall!" cried the War-lord vain,

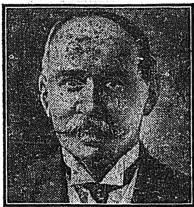

And here are both in allegory shown;

Democracy, triumphant child, shall reign

Henceforth o'er blood-and-iron overthrown!

ROYAL CANADIAN MOUNTED POLICE WILL BE NEW NAME

BILL PRESENTED TO AMALGAMATE MOUNTED MEN AND THE DOMINION POLICE.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The Royal Northwest Mounted Police is changing its name. In the house this afternoon Mr. Rowell presented a bill to amalgamate the Northwest Mounted Police with the Dominion Police to constitute one federal police force. The name of the Northwest Mounted Police will be changed to that of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Major-Gen. McEwen announced that up till September 30, 338,833 members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force have been demobilized. The total number of hospital patients now overseas was 125. All the military patients had been returned to Canada. The total number of hospital cases now in military hospitals in Canada was 6,598, which was the peak load.

RUMOR WITHOUT FOUNDATION. The minister of railways, to a question asked yesterday, read a report from the chief engineer of terminals on the Hudson's Bay Railway. The report said that rumors of the work done on terminals having gone to pieces were without foundation. The work had successfully withstood storm and ice without material impairment.

Speaking on the second reading of his bill to amend the Adulteration Act, Mr. Donald Sutherland declared that adulteration of bran and shorts was carried on by nearly all the millers in Canada. He charged the government with laxity, inasmuch as it had not taken action to improve conditions or force millers to refrain from adulterating the by-products of wheat.

Instead of trying to eliminate the nuisance, said Mr. Sutherland, the government had contracted for over sixteen million pounds of screenings from the elevators, and had distributed them broadcast to the farmers of this country. "I would like to know," he said, "whether the minister of agriculture for the past few years considered he was in the employ of the government of Canada or the Grain Growers' Grain Company."

Mr. Sutherland said the bran distributed throughout the country was not bran, but poison of the rankest kind.

START THE POULTRY YEAR RIGHT

(Experimental Farms Note).

The poultry year should begin on November 1st. At that time the old stock should be culled out, the cockerels divided from the pullets and the pullets selected from the flock and put into winter quarters.

Don't keep old hens. Only the best of those hens that are one and a half years old should be kept. Most of them, with all the older ones should have been disposed of last spring, but in case this was not done do away with them now. Even if they were culled then, go over them again now and see that nothing that will not likely produce is retained.

Call the early moulters. In selecting the hens that you intend to keep, do not take those birds that are looking clean and well feathered, but rather those that are more or less shaggy in appearance. The ones that are still moulting, they are the layers; those that have moulted and have a nice new coat of feathers were not persistent layers. They quit laying too soon, and had nothing to do but grow feathers. This explains why they have their new coat before their more industrious sisters.

Early pullets are best. Select as winter layers the early, well-matured pullets. These should be carefully handled, put into their own house, fed well and given every opportunity to produce.

Pullets that are but half grown or that will not be matured for months yet should be culled out with the cockerels, crate fed and marketed. Such pullets will be a bill of expense all winter and should not be kept on any excuse.

Crate feed surplus. No matter what class of birds that are culled out for market, it will pay to finish them before killing. Even with the high prices of feed, one cannot afford to market poor stuff. For further particulars on crate feeding, write the Poultry Division, Experimental Farms, Ottawa.

Keep accounts. We suggest that every person who wants to make his poultry pay begin at once to keep track of receipts and expenditure. To assist in this, blanks have been prepared by the Poultry Division, Experimental Farms, Ottawa, which will be sent on application to those who will promise to return each month a copy filled in. Those complying will receive suggestions on how to improve their results, based on the information given in their reports.

F. C. ELFORD, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

MUD SLINGING IN ONTARIO CAMPAIGN.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—Major J. I. Harit, M.P.P., for East Simcoe, has issued a writ against R. H. Halbert, president of the U.F.O., claiming $10,000 damages.

He alleges that the defendant, on August 14, at a farmers' meeting, at Barrie, "recklessly falsely and maliciously" charged Harit with having said, at a meeting in North Bay, that "farmers were like a lot of hogs feeding at a trough, and after they were full still squealing for more." He asks for an injunction to restrain Halbert from repeating the statement.

The Expenditure of $610,000,000

How the last Victory Loan was spent

For Demobilization

BEFORE buying Victory Bonds again you may want to know how Canada used the money you loaned her last year.

Canada borrowed the money to carry on the war and to provide credits for Great Britain and our Allies.

CONSIDERABLY more than one-half of the Victory Loan 1918 was spent on our soldiers. This included $312,900,000, for paying them, feeding them, bringing them home, separation allowances to their dependents, maintenance of medical services and vocational training schools.

$59,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1918 was paid on account of authorized Soldiers' gratuities.

$9,000,000 was spent at Halifax for relief and reconstruction after the disaster.

Other disbursements were not, strictly speaking, expenditures, but National Re-investments.

To Great Britain for example:

$173,500,000 was loaned for the purchase of our wheat and cereals.

$9,000,000 for our fish.

$30,000,000 for other Foodstuffs.

$2,900,000 for Canadian built ships.

$5,500,000 to pay other British obligations in Canada.

Making in all $220,900,000 advanced to Great Britain.

To our Allies, we loaned $8,200,000 for the purchase of Canadian foodstuffs, raw material and manufactured products.

The Re-investments will be paid back to Canada in due time, with interest.

These credits were absolutely necessary to secure the orders for Canada because cash purchases were impossible.

They have had the effect of tremendously helping agricultural and industrial workers to tide over the depression that would have followed the Armistice, had we not made these credit loans.

As far as money is concerned, 1919 has been, and is still—just as much a war year as 1918. Our main expenditures for war cannot be completed until well on into 1920. Thus another Victory Loan is necessary—Get ready to buy.

The Why? of Another Victory Loan

WHEN, on the morning of November 11th, 1918, the guns were hushed and glad tidings flashed across the world, there followed with the Nation's Prayer of Thanksgiving, one yearning query, which found echo in the faster beating hearts of wives, mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts. That query was, "How soon will our boy be home?" And, from France and Flanders, from Italy and Egypt, from Palestine and from far-off Siberia, there came an answering echo, "How soon, how soon, may we go home?"

CANADA caught the spirit of these longings, and at once resolved to satisfy them. It was an appalling task. Shipping was tragically scarce. The composition of the Army of Occupation had not then been settled. And other parts of the Empire as well as Canada were looking for the speedy return of their men.

THE problem was this. The half-million men that Canada had overseas had taken more than four years to transport to the field of battle. To bring them home in a few months was a gigantic undertaking—one to tax all Canada's ingenuity and resources. Canada solved the problem, but it meant crowding into a few short months, an expense for demobilization which it was impossible to foresee.

THEN, too, besides the sentimental aspect of the necessity for bringing the men home quickly the economic side could not be overlooked. That was, to transform efficiently and speedily the nation's army of fighters into a national army of workers.

Need Divides Itself in Two Parts

Obligations to Soldiers

The answer to the question "Why does Canada need another Victory Loan?" divides itself into two parts. (a) To finish paying the expenses of demobilization, and the obligations we still owe to our soldiers. (b) To provide national working capital.

The obligations to soldiers include: That already incurred cost of bringing home troops from overseas. The payment of all soldiers still undemobilized. This includes more than 20,000 sick and wounded who are still in hospital, and who of course remain on the Army payroll list discharged.

The upkeep of hospitals, and their medical and nursing staffs, until the need for them is ended. These three items alone will use up at least $200,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1919.

Gratuities There is also the gratuity which has been authorized, and has been and is being paid to assist soldiers to tide over the period between discharge and their re-adjustment to civil life. For this purpose alone, $61,000,000 must be provided out of the Victory Loan 1919, in addition to the $59,000,000 already paid out of the proceeds of the Victory Loan 1918.

Land Settlement Furthermore, soldiers who desire to become farmers may, under the Soldiers' Land Settlement Act, be loaned money by Canada with which to purchase land, stock and implements. The money so advanced will be paid back; meantime each loan is secured by a first mortgage. Up to August 15th, 29,495 soldiers had applied for land under the terms of this Act; and 22,281 applications had been investigated, and the qualifications of the applicant approved. For this purpose Canada this year requires $24,000,000.

Vocational Training For this work which, with the Vocational Training and Soldiers' Service Departments, embraces the major activities of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, an appropriation of $57,000,000 is necessary.

Those who give thought to our outstanding obligations to soldiers, and to our need for national working capital, cannot fail to be impressed with the absolute necessity for the

These national expenditures are war expenses. They will be accepted readily by every citizen who gives thought to the task which Canada faced following the Armistice, and to the success with which she has met it.

National Working Capital

Canada needs national working capital, so that she may be able to sell on credit to Great Britain and our Allies the products of our farms, forests, fisheries, mines and factories.

You may ask "Why sell to them if they can't pay cash?" The answer is, "Their orders are absolutely essential to the continuance of our agricultural and industrial prosperity."

The magnitude of these orders and the amount of employment thus created, will depend upon the success of the Victory Loan 1919.

The "Why" of Credit Loans Farmers and manufacturers (and that includes the workers on these orders) must be paid cash for their products. Therefore, Canada must borrow money from her citizens to give credit, temporarily, to Great Britain and our Allies. Actually, no money will pass out of Canada. If Canada does not give credit, other countries will; and they will get the trade, and have the employment that should be ours, to distribute amongst their workers.

And remember, we absolutely need these orders to maintain employment. If we don't finance them business will feel the depression, employment will not be as plentiful, and conditions everywhere will be adversely affected.

For Transportation Money must also be available to carry on the nation's shipbuilding programme, and other transportation development work. For loans to Provincial Housing Commissions who are building moderate priced houses.

These, then, are some of the things for which Canada needs national working capital. She is in the position of a great trading company, and her citizens who buy Victory Bonds are the shareholders.

plying the same unity of purpose and action to the issues of peace as in the not more difficult tasks of war.

The greatest speech of the gathering, however, was that made by Sir George Foster. The veteran orator spoke with moving eloquence, urging not the union of party or mere political unity, but unity of purpose, of ideals and action, in meeting and solving the vital problems that had arisen out of the war.

Sir George also pleaded for more consideration for public men, and pointed to Sir Robert Borden's undiminished health as an example of the service such service involved. Sir George's speech is declared by all who heard it to be one of the greatest efforts of the master orator's career, and made a profound impression. Hon. N. W. Rowell and Hon. J. A. Calder also made impressive pleas for continued unity, and not a dissenting voice was raised in opposition.

An official statement covering the proceedings at the Unionist caucus was given out last night. It was as follows:

Mr. Hume Cronyn presided over a caucus of government supporters this morning, at which there was a very full attendance. The proceedings were characterized by great earnestness and unanimity. Sir Robert Borden addressed the caucus for an hour and pointed out in the first place the platform consisting of twelve articles which was submitted to the people of Canada on October 18, 1917, and upon which the government received its mandate from the people.

He emphasized the fact that in the policy then outlined, there were included not only the vigorous prosecution of the war, but many important subjects. Among them were civil service reform and the abolition of war profits, effective arrangements for demobilization, the care and vocational training of returned soldiers, for assistance in enabling them to settle upon the land, and for adequate pensions. Besides this the policy had included the development of transportation facilities, co-operative management of the various systems, the encouragement and investigation of shipbuilding and the investigation of the possibilities of air service. It also embraced effective measures to prevent excessive profits, and it included the general development of the varied resources of Canada, their conservation and utilization for the advantage of the people, and adequate consideration of the needs of the industrial population and the maintenance of good relations between employers and employees.

The prime minister strongly emphasized the fact that the record of the government in the fulfillment of its pledges to the people was unequalled in the political history of this country. He then proceeded to elaborate at considerable length the policy which should direct and control the administration of public affairs during the lifetime of the present parliament. He invited the close and earnest attention of the supporters of the government to the programme thus outlined, and he suggested that at a later date a caucus should be held at which the opinions of the members of the party, after due consideration, should be expressed upon the programme which he submitted for their consideration. The proposals of the prime minister were received with enthusiasm and approval. Several members of the government, including Sir Henry Drayton, Mr. Sifton, Mr. Rowell, Sir George Foster, Mr. Calder, and Mr. McLean were called upon to speak and their addresses were received with warm applause.

Sir Robert Borden was greatly touched by the spontaneous and warm welcome with which he was greeted. He announced his intention, under the advice of his physician, of taking such rest from active work as would enable him thoroughly to regain his usual health and vigor. The caucus broke up with enthusiastic cheers for Sir Robert Borden, for the ministers who had spoken and for the Union government.

TO PREVENT UNEMPLOYMENT.

Next year will be well advanced before Canada's main expenditures for war can be completed. Every dollar that can be raised for the Victory Loan 1919 will be required.

The war expenses went on in 1918 as last year was as far as the money is concerned. Pressing liabilities incurred by the war and involving vast sums of money have to be cared for. The simplest and most profitable manner in which this can be done is for the people to provide the money themselves.

The Victory Loan 1919 is entitled to just as much cooperation as was given to its predecessor. It is up to every loyal Canadian to do his utmost to make the new loan an overwhelming success. The continuance of the prosperity of the nation is wholly dependent upon it.

It was naturally to be expected that tragic depression in the Dominion but this was averted by the application of a large proportion of the last Victory loan as credits to Great Britain and our Allies for grain, dairy produce, fish, lumber and ships. These credits were absolutely necessary, and strictly good business. They must be continued. They are not only necessary, but they will be paid eventually and in the meantime industrial and agricultural workers will be kept in busy and lucrative employment.

For the month of October only, I am offering my residence, located at 1st Ave. and 3rd St. South, a five-roomed plastered house with a good chicken house and run, good 21,000 cash. RECORD OF UNION CONTROL UNEQUALLED IN POLITICAL HISTORY

PERMANENT PARTY WILL NOT BE FORMED TILL ELECTIONS ARE NEAR AND JUDGMENT OF MEMBERS MORE MATURE

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—The much expected and long talked of government caucus to discuss the formation of a permanent Unionist party was held Thursday. A permanent new party was not born as was anticipated by advocates of such action, but it was decided to continue as a Unionist party for the remainder of the parliamentary term. A tentative platform for such period was presented by Sir Robert and there was apparently unanimity as to its nature. The members were asked to think over its provisions and to come to final decision next session. It also agreed to leave over the question of the organization of a permanent party until nearer the elections. With changing conditions and difference of opinion, it was felt that it was better to delay decision. A final platform will then be drafted.

ORGANIZATION DELAYED
 The illness of Sir Robert Borden has had much to do with this decision. The prime minister, although he attended the gathering, is a sick man and in no condition to undertake the arduous work of organizing a permanent new party. The caucus was harmonious in its decision and the members will now have time to consult their followers as to the platform put before them by the prime minister, and will be in a better position to take action later. As for the bye-elections they will apparently simply be fought on the record of the administration.

The prime minister, as expected, spoke at some length, outlining a comprehensive programme for dealing with the great problems of reconstruction, and dealing with such urgent questions as transportation, finance, fiscal policy, cost of living, and other political and economic issues.

GRAVE PROBLEMS AHEAD.
 Sir Robert expressed upon the caucus the vital importance of these problems and the gravity of the reconstruction period which lies ahead, and his speech was received with tremendous enthusiasm in closing. He urged the great desirability of the Unionists standing together and supporting Sir Robert.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1919.

SUNDAY GO'F

When we started the discussion on Sunday golf, we hardly realized that it would create such a stir, or that it would travel so far. We did not raise the issue so much from a point of violating the law as from a religious point of view. A judge only recently gave a decision in favor of individual golf so that it comes within the law.

The Advocate, in speaking on the question, remarks that after all the discussion we are just where we were before, and it is a question for one's conscience to decide. We do not agree with the Advocate that the discussion was of no benefit, and that we are just where we were before. No one can wrestle with a problem of this kind without coming to some conclusion. The main idea is to get people to think for themselves. A great change is coming over the people, and they now are not thinking so much of our Creator as a God of Wrath, who will hold us over a lake of burning brimstone if we sin, as a God of Love, a God of Charity. A God St. Paul speaks of in the 13th Corinthians when he says that though you give your body to be burned and have not charity it profiteth you nothing. Charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, seeketh not her own. Without charity we are as sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal. We believe there are a few people without charity in Red Deer.

But, going back to our subject, The Canadian Churchman states that Sunday golf is only one small phase of this great question which must be threshed out in the open. We hope to keep the people in the church, and the churchman is right, in our opinion.

straction, a nonentity. Strength goodne, etc., have no meaning apart from material substance or mental, moral or spiritual personality, yet in defining God, Christian Scientists have substituted the term principle for personality. Similarly unsatisfactory is the way it deals with the problem of sin and the atonement.

To say that sin is a mistake, and that all mistakes are sins, and to say that atonement is merely at-one-ment is a very flippant way to treat the great struggle of mankind. It does not do justice to, nor explain the moral convictions of the race, and makes the Cross of Christ of no effect. The very essence of the Gospel is lost if we regard Christian Science as a satisfactory theory of the Universe.

It is not necessary that we be tossed upon the horns of the dilemma between the position of the Christian Scientist and that taken by the atheistic materialist. The truth that satisfies, that saves, and that must ultimately be accepted by all sane thinking persons lies between these extreme positions. The conflict between science and theology is over except in a few unenlightened minds. Evolution has proved itself to the great majority of intelligent people, to be God's way of doing things. Spirit and matter are not mutually exclusive, but are fundamentally one, and matter is not essentially evil.

"Let us not always say, Spite of this flesh today, I strove, made head, gained ground upon the whole!" As the bird wings and sings, Let us cry, "All good things Are ours, now help flesh, more now, than flesh helps soul."

So much for the theory upon which Christian Science is founded, let me now deal with its practical aspects. In doing so I shall present incidents which have come under my personal notice, and only these.

It is now 25 years since I first came in touch with Christian Science healers.

I had a brother, who, as a result of an accident, was so injured that he lost all use of himself. His sensory nerves were paralyzed. He was unable to walk, to talk, to feed or attend to himself in any way. Medical science and faith healing alike were tried, but no remedy was found. For thirty four years he continued with us in this state.

The Christian Science practitioner stated that he might help him, but could not guarantee a cure. In conversation with me, he told me personally that I needed treatment myself. It was news to me that I required healing, and I asked him what was the nature of my ailment. He replied, "Cataract." I did not take his treatment, and yet I have not suffered from the disease from that day to this. Imaginary ills may yield to imaginary remedies, but real troubles require genuine treatment, and that (apart from a certain form of trouble which I shall deal with later) Christian Science does not possess.

Take two more recent illustrations—two persons, a boy and a girl, living in a neighboring town were suffering from tubercular trouble in the spine. Each received medical treatment, and spent some months in a sanatorium. The boy's mother, impatient of the slow process of the medical treatment, and influenced by Christian Science teaching, had the plaster cast removed and allowed her boy his freedom, putting him under the Christian Science treatment. The other mother, convinced of the truth of her child's cure was effected.

Today the boy is able to go about and is quite active but his limb is deformed, and he will always be a cripple. The girl, who was cured, performed his miracles? Was he compelled to resort to half-way measures? Did it take him months to effect a cure?

I have personally seen the Christian Science practitioner bowing intently before the form of a dying child in vain attempt to check the ebbing tide of life and restore it to its sorrowing parents. Was this a demonstration of the power which Jesus exercised when He restored Lazarus to his sorrowing sisters?

In an not denying that many won to the Christian Science, but I am convinced that these are no more wonderful than those performed at the Shrine of St. Anne de Baupre in the province of Quebec, where the agency is a bone alleged to have been taken from the body of the grandmother of Jesus.

I view with compassionate interest the simple faith of French Canadian Catholics, but I am utterly at a loss to understand the credulity with which enlightened minds regard the writings of Mrs. Eddy.

The attitude of mind which Christian Science demands of its followers, "I HAVE PROVED"

Zam-Buk invaluable for eczema, both in the case of my baby and myself," says Mrs. L. Bonin of West Australia, N.S. She adds: "Baby's skin was badly broken out, but repeated applications of Zam-Buk cured it. In my own case, I had eczema on my hands, which made it very inconvenient for me to do my housework. Particularly was this so, as it aggravated the trouble so that my hands in water. By using Zam-Buk, however, I soon got relief, and it was not very long before every trace of the trouble had disappeared. I really think no home should be without Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk is equally good for all skin injuries. All dealers 50c. box.

The Novelty Store

its credulous submission to the authority of its text book, cannot make for freedom of thought, nor for that comprehensive view of life which is truly Christian and at the same time is thoroughly scientific.

Neither can I see how Christian Science can help us satisfactorily in the solution of the industrial, political and social problems which are confronting us today, since it denies the reality of the realm in which these problems arise. It made no contribution to the relief of distress in the war. It is utterly unable to reach the workers of the world in the economic struggle through which we are passing. Labor churches exist, but they are not being led by Christian Science—falsely so-called.

There is, however, a Christian Science in which I do believe with all my heart. It finds God in the shining of the stars, in the flowering of the fields, and in His ways with men. It uses the telescope, the microscope, and a reasoning mind, to know the whole order of life. It has given the world modern inventions, and established schools, churches and hospitals everywhere. It regards the laws of physics, chemistry, biology and psychology, man's laws, as God's law. The patient research of the student, the skill of the physician, and the material he uses, are all alike divine.

Applied to conditions in our crowded cities it has reduced infant mortality perceptibly, making the death rate in London among the lowest on record.

It made typhoid fever a practically negligible factor in the late war, whereas in former years the death rate has been appalling. Its ministrations have been stretched forth to the maimed victims of the war, enabling the blind to see, the lame to walk and the inefficient to live.

The medical profession is making a real contribution to the welfare and health of mankind. The food of the world is the better for it. The optimism of the Christian Science is of the butterfly order, it solves problems by denying their existence.

Therefore I am not a Christian Scientist.

Buy Your Corset Carefully

To quote the well known medical authority, Alice L. Cutler, M. D., "No one wants to be ill, and when women realize that the constant wearing of an ill-fitting corset helps to keep our hospitals open, they will insist on being properly fitted to corsets instead of buying them hit or miss."

GOSSARD CORSETS

are easy to buy because of the exact science with which they are designed for the needs of the various figure types. Their proper purchase merely means that thoughtful care you always give to matters of importance.

Every Gossard Corset is hygienically correct. If properly fitted to the figure for which it was designed, and carefully adjusted each time it is worn, it will mould that figure to the ideal proportions of its type. It will give a priceless all-day comfort. It will safeguard the wearer against those bodily ailments that are often the result of improper corsetry.

Adjusting a Gossard is simplicity itself; it is so simple as to offer no excuse for neglecting that daily adjustment by which alone the full benefits and service of the corset may be realized.

Never hurry in putting on your corset. That elusive charm called "style" is nothing but correct body poise induced by a correctly fitted corset. You may be sure that the woman you admired today has taken the time to carefully adjust her Gossard.

Model 263—A corset that will meet the needs of a large range of figure types. The low top is gracefully curved to follow the contour of the bust, with the clasps carried high enough to support the flesh at the center front. The medium high back offers comfortable support and the corset is further characterized by a graceful waist and flat back and hip lines.

COULDN'T WORK FOR 8 MONTHS

SPENT FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS SEEKING HEALTHY TANLAC RESTORES HIM.

"I consider my first bottle of Tanlac has been worth at least a hundred dollars to me," declared Dan McLean, of 335, Esplanade street, Sydney, Nova Scotia, while in Turnbull's Drug store for more of the medicine, recently. Mr. McLean has been following the carpenter's trade for the past forty years. He has lived in Sydney for twenty years and is well known.

"On the 15th of last September," he continued, "I was taken down with the 'flu' and was never able to get anything to put me on my feet until I found Tanlac. I was left so weak that I could not hit a lick of work for more than eight months, and this meant a loss of from $120 to $180 a month."

"I was not able to get my health back, so you can see that what I was taking meant before getting down. I was unable to get my health back, so you can see that what I was taking meant before getting down. I was unable to get my health back, so you can see that what I was taking meant before getting down."

"Seeing by the papers that Tanlac was helping so many others who were in a run down condition, and thinking it might help to get me on my feet, I bought a bottle. Well, it may seem exaggerated, but it's the truth, after taking my fourth dose of Tanlac I could tell it was what I needed and was going to do the work, and I have been gaining ground ever since. Why I never ate more than fifty cents worth of food a week before I got Tanlac, but now I eat as much as I want, and no matter what kind of food is set before me, I enjoy it. I have just finished my first bottle of Tanlac and am feeling well enough already to go back to work. Tanlac beats anything I have ever seen or heard about; it is no more like other medicines I have used than day is like night. Before taking it my nerves were so shattered that I could never get a good night's sleep, but now I sleep like a log. I also had the worst kind of headache, but they have been broken up entirely. Tanlac is simply making a new man of me, and I honestly believe it's the best medicine in the world, and any one who gives it a trial will be convinced."

Tanlac is sold in Red Deer by Gatz's Corner Drug & Book Co., and by Stettler by the Palace Pharmacy, Ltd. in Eekville by Eekville Drug Co. In Veteran by Veteran Drug Store, in Delburne by E. J. Hodge, and in Hespero by Macdonnell Bros.

HENS THAT PAY

(Experimental Farms Note.)
Three of the Dominion Experimental Farms situated in the Prairie Provinces have been making increased records in egg production for several years and the present year promises to beat all previous years for high yields.

It has been thought that the 200 egg hen was not possible in the West with its cold winters, but hens at Brandon, Indian Head and Lethbridge have shown that this is not the case and that 225 eggs is by no means impossible and that even 250 eggs from one hen in 52 weeks is an actual fact.

These three farms have been running neck and neck in production until this winter, when Mr. Crossfield, the poultry expert at Lethbridge, secured the best general egg yield. There were "all" all the pullets retained a 150 eggs in the year, but there were also a good many 200 eggs and several that laid 225 eggs. It is Indian Head, however, that beats all Prairie records to date with a Wyandotte Pullet that finished its 52 weeks on September 8th with 263 eggs to her credit. This is not the highest yield for an experimental farm bird in the west, for the Vancouver Island Station had one that finished her year last month with 274 eggs, but the Indian Head is the best in the Prairies to date, and Mr. Crouch, the efficient poultryman there, is to be congratulated.

The three Prairie Farms that have been obtaining these records have the three plants at which Egg Laying Contests are to be conducted this year. The birds in the contest will, therefore, be under the very best management obtainable, and where the best records may be expected. Breeders, therefore, who wish authentic records may enter three to five birds in "tests" or a pen of ten birds in a "contest" at any one of the three Prairie Farms. Entries may be sent to Dominion Poultry Husbandman, Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Hens that lay 150 eggs in 52 weeks will be eligible for entry to Royal Show Performance, those that lay 225 to the Advanced Record of Performance. Breeders of good strains who want to do business had better get official tests and have their birds registered right at the beginning of the Dominion Record of Performance.

PRINCE TO SPEND THREE DAYS IN WASHINGTON CITY.
New York, Oct. 2.—An associated Press dispatch from Washington today says:

"The Prince of Wales, who now is touring Canada, will come to Washington in about a month for a visit of three days, but he will not make a tour of the United States, Mayor Bessie, of Pittsburgh, has just been informed by Chairman Porter of the public foreign affairs committee."

"I am reliably informed," said Mr. Porter, "that it is the wish of the British government that the Prince of Wales, upon leaving Canada, should spend three days in Washington, returning to New York there after, from whence he sails for Europe, and that a tour of the United States should not be made."

SHOE RETAILERS MAKING PROFIT OF FIFTY PER CENT.

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—According to evidence submitted by C. P. Hannard, president of the Hannard Shoe Company at Thursday's session of the board of commerce, a gross profit amounting to about fifty per cent is realized on every pair of highest priced Canadian and American men's and women's shoes sold by his company. Of the two, Canadian manufactured shoes bring in slightly better returns, there being no duty to pay although the manufacturer's price was shown to be higher.

That the cost of shoes to the public will be under government control next year was intimated by Harry Whitt, K.C., the cross-examining attorney, when he said: "Never mind worrying about what shoes will cost next year, we will have something to say about that Mr. Hannard. It is the cost price and selling price of the shoes that we want."

Mr. Hannard, on the stand, admitted, when cross-examined, that shoe-men put their prices up on stock already in the store when they became cognizant of an advance which was threatening manufacturer's prices.

The witness justified this practice to the commission on the ground that the retailer had to make the shift to get more capital with which to swing the next purchase at the larger outlay.

Of chief interest to women was a classy black buck high shoe, costing $19. This shoe is an American product and laid down in Winnipeg costs the Hannard company $11.74.

For the men a Canadian shoe costing the commission $15 was of chief interest. The sale price of this shoe showed a gross profit of 66 2/3 per cent.

Prior to the adjournment of the board Mr. Whitt made the announcement that the enquiry into boots and clothing would be laid over for another week, pending the arrival of Judge H. A. Robson from the east. He stated Judge Robson desired to be present himself at the local inquiry into these two staples.

ALVENSEN WORSE THAN BROKE TODAY.

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 1.—In a petition designed to bring into the assets of the estate of Alvo von Alvensleben, in Alberta, a certain piece of property belonging to the late von Alvensleben, of that famous company, informs the court that the company has liabilities of over $3,000,000, and assets on which he expects to realize no more than approximately $200,000.

Alvensleben was the reputed representative of the Kaiser in British Columbia. He lost between seven and ten million dollars in investments in this province. If the Germans had won the war, Alvensleben might have been governor of British Columbia, but as it turned out, he spent three years in an internment camp, and is today worse than broke.

SEA WATER BOILING FOR HALF A MILE

Hilo, Hawaii, Oct. 2.—A stream of lava 1,000 feet wide is flowing into the sea at the rate of from twenty to thirty miles an hour from the crater of the volcano, Mauna Loa, which burst forth last Saturday. These streams of lava now average from 20 to 30 feet high. Where the lava flows into the sea the waters are boiling for half a mile and are strewn with dead fish. The sides of the flow are banked up with "foam" lava, and real hot lava is carried in the water, which explodes when it hits the water. Property damage has not been large.
